

A small but highly motivated team, working closely together is the basis to develop outstanding solutions for our customers. If you are willing to bring in all your expertise, skills and creativity and expect the same from your colleagues then you are at the right place to work. State of the art tools and latest communication equipment as well as a comfortable working environment are obvious. Last but not least flexible work time models offer you the right work life balance. Located in the Tyrolean Alps we work where others go for vacation.

We are a well growing SME, developing and manufacturing high tech equipment for the electrical power industry. As we are expanding we are looking for an

DEVELOPMENT ENGINEER HIGH VOLTAGE TEST (F/M)

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Development of components of HV test equipment
- Technical project management
- Technical support for sales. after sales and assembly teams

WE EXPECT:

- Successfully completed academic education in electrical engineering
- Some years of working experience in a development position
- Willing to travel, team player and stressable
- Excellent English in writing and spoken is a must, additionally French and Spanish language is welcome

WE OFFER:

- A highly interesting position, where you can realize your ideas and see your success
- Working in an international company being worldwide active
- Very good possibilities for your advancement
- Working in an environment where others go for holidays

For this position we offer a gross salary of EUR 40.000. Depending on your qualification and experience a competitive and performance-related package will be paid.

We look forward to receiving your application at personal@mohaupt-hv.com.